

HILLINGDON & UXBRIDGE TIMES

4th September

Consultant Connect puts GPs in touch with specialists who can give real time advice about patient issues

Adam Shaw

The service removes the need for lengthy written correspondence

f t G+ 📧 憫 0

Get the latest local news straight to your inbox every day

Sign up

GPs have saved the NHS thousands of pounds by using a new service which cuts out unnecessary hospital trips.

Consultant Connect gives doctors the chance to speak to specialists and receive tailored advice relating to patient issues.

It means patients are referred to hospital less frequently and new data suggests that, in Harrow alone, this has saved the NHS roughly £142,000.

We use cookies to give you the best experience on our website and bring you more relevant advertising. Learn more about cookies relationships with local specialists.”

OK

In Harrow, the service covers eight specialities – cardiology, care for the elderly, gastroenterology, paediatrics, rheumatology, trauma and orthopaedics, urology and vascular surgery.

Since the phonenumber launched in March last year, GPs from 36 surgeries across the borough have made around 620 calls to specialists at various hospitals including Central Middlesex and Northwick Park.

Often, GPs can talk to these specialists while the patient is still in the room and can gain advice in real time as opposed to lodging the information in writing.

ADVERTISING

inRead invented by Teads

Dr David Lloyd, of The Ridgeway Surgery in North Harrow, explained how it can mean that long waits in A&E, or month-long processes with outpatients, are avoided.

f t G+ w e 憫 0

Sponsored stories

Recommended by